A Modern and Flexible Access Control Platform

Millennium Ultra combines a modern, intuitive user interface with a highly capable architecture providing the features and reliability that enterprise customers demand.

Experience the same ease of use you've come to expect from Millennium, totally rewritten as a scalable, flexible and highly extensible state of the art Access Control Platform.

Ultra is scalable, allowing for simple migrations from small Entry systems and large Enterprise systems. And with a multi-window User Interface, providing a single view for the event monitor, alarm monitor and image verification, it puts more power in your access control system operation. For new installations, Ultra scales to meet the application needs, making it an affordable solution, no matter what the system size requirements.

Ultra is fully backward and forward compatible with all of the Millennium Door Control Devices.
